

Votes in Congress Votes in Congress

Washingtonpost.com

February 2, 2012 Thursday 8:12 PM EST

Copyright 2012 Washingtonpost.Newsweek Interactive Company, LLC All Rights Reserved

washingtonpost.com

Section: Metro; Pg. T22

Length: 2321 words

Body

Here's how members of Congress voted on major issues in the week ending Jan. 27, according to Voterama in Congress.

HOUSE WAR MEMORIAL, FDR PRAYER

FOR: 386 Against: 26

The House sent the Senate a bill (HR 2070) requiring the World War II Memorial in the District to be engraved with the "Let Our Hearts Be Stout" prayer that President Franklin D. Roosevelt read to a national radio audience on June 6, 1944. Roosevelt delivered the 527-word prayer as U.S., Canadian and British forces were launching the D-Day invasion of Europe. The bill bars the use of government funds to prepare or install the wording.

A yes vote was to pass the bill.

SENATE DEBT-LIMIT ROLLBACK

For: 44 Against: 52

The Senate refused to block a $1.2 trillion increase in Treasury borrowing authority needed to keep the government from defaulting the next day on debts already incurred. Passed by the House, the measure (HJ Res 98) sought to roll back a debt-limit increase enacted last year as part of the Budget Control Act. This vote allowed the U.S. debt ceiling to rise from $15.2 trillion to $16.4 trillion. The new limit is expected to last for at least one year.

A yes vote was to block a debt-limit increase.

FEDERAL JUDGE JOHN GERRARD

For: 74 Against: 16

The Senate confirmed Nebraska Supreme Court Justice John M. Gerrard, 58, as a federal judge for the District of Nebraska. Gerrard drew criticism for his opposition to Nebraska's use of the electric chair. In February 2008, the Nebraska Supreme Court ruled that the state's use of electrocution was cruel and unusual punishment. Gerrard voted with the majority in that 6-1 decision.

A yes vote was to confirm Gerrard.

2012, Thomas Voting Reports

Votes in Congress Votes in Congress

Here's how members of Congress voted on major issues in the week ending Jan. 27, according to Voterama in Congress.

HOUSE WAR MEMORIAL, FDR PRAYER

FOR: 386 Against: 26

The House sent the Senate a bill (HR 2070) requiring the World War II Memorial in the District to be engraved with the "Let Our Hearts Be Stout" prayer that President Franklin D. Roosevelt read to a national radio audience on June 6, 1944. Roosevelt delivered the 527-word prayer as U.S., Canadian and British forces were launching the D-Day invasion of Europe. The bill bars the use of government funds to prepare or install the wording.

A yes vote was to pass the bill.

SENATE DEBT-LIMIT ROLLBACK

For: 44 Against: 52

The Senate refused to block a $1.2 trillion increase in Treasury borrowing authority needed to keep the government from defaulting the next day on debts already incurred. Passed by the House, the measure (HJ Res 98) sought to roll back a debt-limit increase enacted last year as part of the Budget Control Act. This vote allowed the U.S. debt ceiling to rise from $15.2 trillion to $16.4 trillion. The new limit is expected to last for at least one year.

A yes vote was to block a debt-limit increase.

FEDERAL JUDGE JOHN GERRARD

For: 74 Against: 16

The Senate confirmed Nebraska Supreme Court Justice John M. Gerrard, 58, as a federal judge for the District of Nebraska. Gerrard drew criticism for his opposition to Nebraska's use of the electric chair. In February 2008, the Nebraska Supreme Court ruled that the state's use of electrocution was cruel and unusual punishment. Gerrard voted with the majority in that 6-1 decision.

A yes vote was to confirm Gerrard.

2012, Thomas Voting Reports

Here's how members of Congress voted on major issues in the week ending Jan. 27, according to Voterama in Congress.

HOUSE WAR MEMORIAL, FDR PRAYER

FOR: 386 Against: 26

The House sent the Senate a bill (HR 2070) requiring the World War II Memorial in the District to be engraved with the "Let Our Hearts Be Stout" prayer that President Franklin D. Roosevelt read to a national radio audience on June 6, 1944. Roosevelt delivered the 527-word prayer as U.S., Canadian and British forces were launching the D-Day invasion of Europe. The bill bars the use of government funds to prepare or install the wording.

A yes vote was to pass the bill.

SENATE DEBT-LIMIT ROLLBACK

For: 44 Against: 52

The Senate refused to block a $1.2 trillion increase in Treasury borrowing authority needed to keep the government from defaulting the next day on debts already incurred. Passed by the House, the measure (HJ Res

Votes in Congress Votes in Congress

98) sought to roll back a debt-limit increase enacted last year as part of the Budget Control Act. This vote allowed the U.S. debt ceiling to rise from $15.2 trillion to $16.4 trillion. The new limit is expected to last for at least one year.

A yes vote was to block a debt-limit increase.

FEDERAL JUDGE JOHN GERRARD

For: 74 Against: 16

The Senate confirmed Nebraska Supreme Court Justice John M. Gerrard, 58, as a federal judge for the District of Nebraska. Gerrard drew criticism for his opposition to Nebraska's use of the electric chair. In February 2008, the Nebraska Supreme Court ruled that the state's use of electrocution was cruel and unusual punishment. Gerrard voted with the majority in that 6-1 decision.

A yes vote was to confirm Gerrard.

2012, Thomas Voting Reports

Here's how members of Congress voted on major issues in the week ending Jan. 27, according to Voterama in Congress.

HOUSE WAR MEMORIAL, FDR PRAYER

FOR: 386 Against: 26

The House sent the Senate a bill (HR 2070) requiring the World War II Memorial in the District to be engraved with the "Let Our Hearts Be Stout" prayer that President Franklin D. Roosevelt read to a national radio audience on June 6, 1944. Roosevelt delivered the 527-word prayer as U.S., Canadian and British forces were launching the D-Day invasion of Europe. The bill bars the use of government funds to prepare or install the wording.

A yes vote was to pass the bill.

SENATE DEBT-LIMIT ROLLBACK

For: 44 Against: 52

The Senate refused to block a $1.2 trillion increase in Treasury borrowing authority needed to keep the government from defaulting the next day on debts already incurred. Passed by the House, the measure (HJ Res 98) sought to roll back a debt-limit increase enacted last year as part of the Budget Control Act. This vote allowed the U.S. debt ceiling to rise from $15.2 trillion to $16.4 trillion. The new limit is expected to last for at least one year.

A yes vote was to block a debt-limit increase.

FEDERAL JUDGE JOHN GERRARD

For: 74 Against: 16

The Senate confirmed Nebraska Supreme Court Justice John M. Gerrard, 58, as a federal judge for the District of Nebraska. Gerrard drew criticism for his opposition to Nebraska's use of the electric chair. In February 2008, the Nebraska Supreme Court ruled that the state's use of electrocution was cruel and unusual punishment. Gerrard voted with the majority in that 6-1 decision.

A yes vote was to confirm Gerrard.

2012, Thomas Voting Reports

Here's how members of Congress voted on major issues in the week ending Jan. 27, according to Voterama in Congress.

Votes in Congress Votes in Congress

HOUSE WAR MEMORIAL, FDR PRAYER

FOR: 386 Against: 26

The House sent the Senate a bill (HR 2070) requiring the World War II Memorial in the District to be engraved with the "Let Our Hearts Be Stout" prayer that President Franklin D. Roosevelt read to a national radio audience on June 6, 1944. Roosevelt delivered the 527-word prayer as U.S., Canadian and British forces were launching the D-Day invasion of Europe. The bill bars the use of government funds to prepare or install the wording.

A yes vote was to pass the bill.

SENATE DEBT-LIMIT ROLLBACK

For: 44 Against: 52

The Senate refused to block a $1.2 trillion increase in Treasury borrowing authority needed to keep the government from defaulting the next day on debts already incurred. Passed by the House, the measure (HJ Res 98) sought to roll back a debt-limit increase enacted last year as part of the Budget Control Act. This vote allowed the U.S. debt ceiling to rise from $15.2 trillion to $16.4 trillion. The new limit is expected to last for at least one year.

A yes vote was to block a debt-limit increase.

FEDERAL JUDGE JOHN GERRARD

For: 74 Against: 16

The Senate confirmed Nebraska Supreme Court Justice John M. Gerrard, 58, as a federal judge for the District of Nebraska. Gerrard drew criticism for his opposition to Nebraska's use of the electric chair. In February 2008, the Nebraska Supreme Court ruled that the state's use of electrocution was cruel and unusual punishment. Gerrard voted with the majority in that 6-1 decision.

A yes vote was to confirm Gerrard.

2012, Thomas Voting Reports

Here's how members of Congress voted on major issues in the week ending Jan. 27, according to Voterama in Congress.

HOUSE WAR MEMORIAL, FDR PRAYER

FOR: 386 Against: 26

The House sent the Senate a bill (HR 2070) requiring the World War II Memorial in the District to be engraved with the "Let Our Hearts Be Stout" prayer that President Franklin D. Roosevelt read to a national radio audience on June 6, 1944. Roosevelt delivered the 527-word prayer as U.S., Canadian and British forces were launching the D-Day invasion of Europe. The bill bars the use of government funds to prepare or install the wording.

A yes vote was to pass the bill.

SENATE DEBT-LIMIT ROLLBACK

For: 44 Against: 52

The Senate refused to block a $1.2 trillion increase in Treasury borrowing authority needed to keep the government from defaulting the next day on debts already incurred. Passed by the House, the measure (HJ Res 98) sought to roll back a debt-limit increase enacted last year as part of the Budget Control Act. This vote allowed the U.S. debt ceiling to rise from $15.2 trillion to $16.4 trillion. The new limit is expected to last for at least one year.

Votes in Congress Votes in Congress

A yes vote was to block a debt-limit increase.

FEDERAL JUDGE JOHN GERRARD

For: 74 Against: 16

The Senate confirmed Nebraska Supreme Court Justice John M. Gerrard, 58, as a federal judge for the District of Nebraska. Gerrard drew criticism for his opposition to Nebraska's use of the electric chair. In February 2008, the Nebraska Supreme Court ruled that the state's use of electrocution was cruel and unusual punishment. Gerrard voted with the majority in that 6-1 decision.

A yes vote was to confirm Gerrard.

2012, Thomas Voting Reports

Here's how members of Congress voted on major issues last week, according to Voterama in Congress.

HOUSE WAR MEMORIAL, FDR PRAYER

FOR: 386 Against: 26

The House sent the Senate a bill (HR 2070) requiring the World War II Memorial in the District to be engraved with the "Let Our Hearts Be Stout" prayer that President Franklin D. Roosevelt read to a national radio audience on June 6, 1944. Roosevelt delivered the 527-word prayer as U.S., Canadian and British forces were launching the D-Day invasion of Europe. A yes vote was to pass the bill.

SENATE DEBT-LIMIT ROLLBACK

For: 44 Against: 52

The Senate refused to block a $1.2 trillion increase in Treasury borrowing authority needed to keep the government from defaulting on existing debts. Passed by the House, the measure (HJ Res 98) sought to roll back a debt-limit increase enacted last year as part of the Budget Control Act. This vote allowed the U.S. debt ceiling to rise from $15.2 trillion to $16.4 trillion. A yes vote was to block a debt-limit increase.

2012, Thomas Voting Reports

Here's how members of Congress voted on major issues in the week ending Jan. 27, according to Voterama in Congress.

HOUSE WAR MEMORIAL, FDR PRAYER

FOR: 386 Against: 26

The House sent the Senate a bill (HR 2070) requiring the World War II Memorial in the District to be engraved with the "Let Our Hearts Be Stout" prayer that President Franklin D. Roosevelt read to a national radio audience on June 6, 1944. Roosevelt delivered the 527-word prayer as U.S., Canadian and British forces were launching the D-Day invasion of Europe. The bill bars the use of government funds to prepare or install the wording.

A yes vote was to pass the bill.

SENATE DEBT-LIMIT ROLLBACK

For: 44 Against: 52

The Senate refused to block a $1.2 trillion increase in Treasury borrowing authority needed to keep the government from defaulting the next day on debts already incurred. Passed by the House, the measure (HJ Res

Votes in Congress Votes in Congress

98) sought to roll back a debt-limit increase enacted last year as part of the Budget Control Act. This vote allowed the U.S. debt ceiling to rise from $15.2 trillion to $16.4 trillion. The new limit is expected to last for at least one year.

A yes vote was to block a debt-limit increase.

FEDERAL JUDGE JOHN GERRARD

For: 74 Against: 16

The Senate confirmed Nebraska Supreme Court Justice John M. Gerrard, 58, as a federal judge for the District of Nebraska. Gerrard drew criticism for his opposition to Nebraska's use of the electric chair. In February 2008, the Nebraska Supreme Court ruled that the state's use of electrocution was cruel and unusual punishment. Gerrard voted with the majority in that 6-1 decision.

A yes vote was to confirm Gerrard.

2012, Thomas Voting Reports

Classification

Language: ENGLISH

Publication-Type: Web Publication

Subject: LEGISLATIVE BODIES (91%); DEBT CEILING (90%); WORLD WAR II (90%); LEGISLATION (89%); VOTERS & VOTING (89%); PUBLIC FINANCE (89%); JUDGES (86%); PUBLIC DEBT (76%); US 2013 FISCAL CLIFF (75%); DECISIONS & RULINGS (71%); LAW COURTS & TRIBUNALS (70%); SUPREME COURTS (70%); CRUEL & UNUSUAL PUNISHMENT (63%)

Organization: NEBRASKA SUPREME COURT (54%)

Industry: US 2013 FISCAL CLIFF (75%)

Geographic: NEBRASKA, USA (94%); UNITED STATES (93%); CANADA (92%); UNITED KINGDOM (91%)

Load-Date: February 2, 2012