

LETTERS Immigrant Cabdrivers

The New York Times

September 27, 2007 Thursday, Late Edition - Final

Copyright 2007 The New York Times Company

Section: Section A; Column 0; Editorial Desk; Pg. 32

Length: 127 words

Body

To the Editor:

Rewarding cabdrivers who can prove their identity and aptitude behind the wheel with driver's licenses is not only politically correct, but also morally sound. "New York's Immigrant Drivers" (editorial, Sept. 22) supports a claim that should be accepted nationwide, not only in nine states.

Safe drivers who continue to help pedestrians in New York should be rewarded for their achievements, not questioned because of their immigration status.

Gov. Eliot Spitzer was correct in supporting this disputed decision, and I believe that only positive things will occur because of his choice.

Anyhow, who wouldn't want to know that his or her life is in good hands when stepping into a cab?

Meredith Meyer Palm Beach Gardens, Fla., Sept. 22, 2007

<http://www.nytimes.com>

Classification

Language: ENGLISH

Document-Type: Letter

Publication-Type: Newspaper

Subject: LETTERS & COMMENTS (92%); IMMIGRATION (90%); DRIVERS LICENSES (88%); POLITICAL CORRECTNESS (72%)

Industry: TAXICABS & LIMOUSINES (90%); DRIVERS LICENSES (88%)

Person: ELIOT SPITZER (57%)

LETTERS Immigrant Cabdrivers

Geographic: NEW YORK, USA (88%); FLORIDA, USA (52%)

Load-Date: March 10, 2009

End of Document